

The railroad head distance between Hamburg and Berlin crosses the southwest edge areas of Mecklenburg-West Pomerania. Other connections during this distance lead to Schwerin through bath little one to Wismar / Rostock-Stralsund-Rügen. In this region there are other mainline distances: The one drives down between Berlin over Neustrelitz to Rostock / Neubrandenburg-Stralsund-Rügen, another goes from Berlin about Pasewalk Anklam Greifswald and ends in Stralsund. Other branch lines and bath roads exist on the Baltic coast. Here you see our videos.
