

Saarland disposes of a good transport infrastructure. One owes this fact to an early and intensive industrialization. Till the 1960s Saarland disposed of the thickest railway system in Germany. Since the 1960s bit by bit different distances were served no more. Here you see our videos.